

LORA L. POTTER

BIO

Los Angeles,
California

Lora is currently working as MMP in Los Angeles, as well as a certified stretching and youth coach. She is passionate about health and wellbeing. Former experience includes elementary teaching, elementary curriculum and product development, and project management specializing in classroom design. Education has also always been an integral part of her life as well. It is her passion for education and health and well-being that makes working with CPC such an exciting experience.

 CORE PURPOSE CONSULTING